After wrapping up my Bachelor's degree from Weber State University in Technical Sales, and with only two classes left to complete my Master's degree, I left higher education to run CampusBookRentals.com full time. Ironically, my higher education business caused me to drop out of higher education. I said goodbye to a fantastic career as a contracting specialist (civilian) for the US Air Force which was not easy to do. I still feel indebted to the Air Force for the experience and training I received there.

CampusBookRentals.com is, aside from family, my passion. Rising from a simple idea I had as a college student, to a pilot program at Weber State University in August 2007, to serving customers on more than 5,500 college campuses every single semester, has been an incredible and exciting challenge. We just took spot #17 on the 2012 Inc. 5000 list, the #1 spot in education, and the top spot in Utah.

Also recently recognized as the fastest growing company under five years old in Utah, and landed spot #31 on Forbes Magazine's list of Americas Most Promising Companies in 2011. We moved into a 57,000 square foot facility in Ogden, UT in 2010 to accommodate our growth.

I've made so many good friends along the way and have partnered with some amazing people. I'm such a huge fan of the 115+ people that I get to work with every day. We're working like sleepless maniacs to make the customer experience second to none, while proving to the textbook world that there is a better way.

My professional goal is to continue to create and develop businesses that add value to the world, to develop valuable relationships in the process, and to stay healthy, active, and alive long enough to enjoy it.
