

Jana Francis Sep 3	After the birth of her child, Jana’s love of online deal hunting and her quest for finding the most popular baby products at steep discounts were the catalysts for the creation of a new kind of website. She and a partner created Steal Network, and then launched babySTEALS.com. www.steals.com
Gary Ramos Sep 10	Founder of a precision metal fabrication for electronics business in California, Mr. Ramos grew the business from a two-man shop to 650 employees.
Karleigh Heywood Sep 17	A Snow College alumna and book artist, Karleigh believes education does not end with graduation. Having taught bookbinding and book arts for several years in the western US, her successful “Badger & Chirp” Etsy business showcases her unique art in hand-made book form. https://www.etsy.com/shop/badgerandchirp
Susan Peterson Sep 24	Susan Petersen started making baby moccasins at her kitchen table from a bag of scrap leather. After experimenting with designs and with a $200 bootstrap budget, she launched a business. Her baby moccs have been featured in Parenting Magazine, US Weekly, and have been purchased by the likes of Kim and Kourtney Kardashian. She appeared on Shark Tank in January of 2014. www.freshlypicked.com
Oct 1	TBA
Kevin Jones Oct 8	While in Texas, Keven spent 20 years perfecting his cooking skills of all things barbecue and Snap Daddy’s BBQ sauce was born. Today his BBQ sauce can be found in dozens of stores. www.snapdaddys.com
Marti Wymer Oct 15	After her mom, who lived far away, was diagnosed with cancer, Marti wanted to do something to comfort her. She immediately thought of chicken soup. In this crisis of the heart, Spoonful of Comfort was born. Gourmet soups delivered has proven successful! The business was featured on the cover of Entrepreneur magazine’s most brilliant ideas issue. www.spoonfulofcomfort.com
Ben Harrison Oct 22	A serial entrepreneur, Ben started his first business while still in college. After completing his education and a stint with Warner Brothers, he founded Big Brainz, a high-end educational video game company. www.bigbrainz.com
Rod Smith Oct 29	The Green PolkaDot Box, based in Sanpete County, offers natural and organic, non-GMO foods at wholesale prices, and delivers them directly to your doorstep. www.greenpolkadotbox.com
Tyson Olson Nov 5	Everyone loves pizza! Tyson and his business partner brought the Little Caesar’s Pizza franchise to Ephraim. It has been so successful, he is opening a new one in Nephi.
Neal Harmon Nov 12	Movies, TV and YouTube, minus the bosoms, blood and bad words! Neal and his brother Jeffrey created a popular service that allows users to filter streaming movies, TV shows, and popular YouTube videos. www.vidangel.com
Dallas Robinson Nov 19	Kisstixx®--the best thing to happen to kissing since the French got their lips on it! The Shark Tank win in 2012 helped Dallas and cofounder Mike Buonomo launch their unique flavored lip balm to a nationwide market. www.kisstixx.com